Calls Up Resolution That Senator Smoot Of Utah Has No Right To His Seat.

GOES INTO THE MORMON HISTORY

Senate Wants To Know When Cortelyou Is To Actually Be The Secretary Of The Treasury Before Confirming Appointment.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—At the conclusion of the morning business in the senate today Senator Burrows, chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, called up a resolution declaring Senator Smoot from Utah "not entitled to a seat as senator on that subject."

Senator Burrows first reviewed historical facts in connection with the establishment of polygamy by the Mormon church. He said there had been no proof submitted to sustain the allegation that Mr. Smoot is a polygamist adding that the recommendation of the committee on privileges and elections in favor of declaring vacant the seat of the Utah senator is not based on such charges.

Mr. Burrows' impeachment was based entirely upon the connection of Mr. Smoot with the governing body of the church, consisting of the presidency and the twelve apostles. He referred to this body as a "hierarchy," and said: "The power exercised by this body is far-reaching and commanding, holding in its grasp practically the entire membership of the organization and through it the domination of the state by arrogating to itself and inculcating the belief in its followers that they are endowed with supernatural powers as 'prophets, seers, and revelators,' and specially commissioned by the Almighty to dominate the affairs of this world, and that resistance to the will of this theocracy is rebellion against God. The testimony fully sustains the allegation that the Mormon priesthood is vested with supreme authority in all things, temporal and spiritual; and that the first presidency and the twelve apostles are supreme in the exercise and transmission of the mandates of this authority."

He said that "since the admission of Utah into the Union the people of the state have been, if possible, more completely under the domination of the Mormon hierarchy than during the long years of their territorial existence," and in support of this statement added: "Immediately and at the very first election thereafter the hierarchy resumed its domination in state affairs, taking possession practically of every official position in the state government, and has held them ever since with unyielding tenacity. The only office held by a non-Mormon under the state government during the ten years of its existence, as an elective officer, has been the attorney general."

He cited many instances of political inference not only in Utah but adjoining states, and quoted at length the church manifesto of 1896 requiring members to obtain the consent of the hierarchy before becoming candidates for office. Smoot has been compelled to obtain this permission. "He was nominated by the hierarchy," said Mr. Burrows, "and the selection ratified by the legislature." He went on: "No more cunningly devised scheme could possibly be concocted to put the church in politics and make it potent it is known that a candidate has the indorsement of the hierarchy and permission of the hierarchy to be a candidate that moment he has back of him the whole power of the Mormon church and his election is assured. There has been no case in which a candidate for a high office in Utah has obtained the consent of the church to run and has been defeated."

He said that Mr. Smoot's membership in the church governing body which inculcates a belief in polygamy, is conceded. Concluding that the members of the hierarchy teach polygamy as a principle of human conduct, he took up the question as to whether they practice it. On that point he said:

"The evidence upon this point is so complete and overwhelming as to leave no doubt as to the truth of the allegation. The proof is indubitable that in spite of the manifesto of 1896 issued by the head of the church, counseling the suspension of polygamy, in spite of the expressed inhibition of the constitution of the state and of the statutory prohibition of the commonwealth, it appears that a majority of the members of this hierarchy has continually and persistently lived in polygamy, and is today openly and confessedly defying the laws of the land prohibiting such crimes. The record is so shocking as to challenge credulity."

He spoke in this connection of the astonishment of the committee at the confessions of President Smith and of the revelations of the fact that eight of the twelve apostles have plural wives. Referring to Smith's confession of five wives and forty-two children, Mr. Burrows added:

"If the public press is to be credited, this number has been augmented during the last year to forty-three, and while we are discussing the right of the representative of the hierarchy to a seat in this body, we can imagine its satanic head sitting in the home of his fifth plural wife, rocking the cradle of the latest illegitimate offspring of his deabuchery and crime, and with sanctimonious air singing the familiar hymn of his church: 'Now the Gentile reign is o'er, Darkness covers earth no more, Gentle tyrants sink to Hell, Now's the day of Israel.'"

He then declared that "it is shown by the testimony that the majority of the apostles are living in polygamous cohabitation, including the president of the twelve."

He went on: "Plural marriages are performed in secret in darkened rooms on the highways remote from habitation."

Coming to the connection of Senator Smoot with the hierarchy, Mr. Burrows said that practically all of its members were polygamists when he became a member. "The vital question therefore, is," he said, "can one become a member of and identify himself with a band of lawbreakers, knowing them to be such, participate in their counsels, and sustain them in their conferences, and yet escape all responsibility for their unlawful acts? Such a contention will not stand the test of either law or reason."

"The senator's complicity in encouraging polygamy and polygamous cohabitation does not consist wholly in the fact that he is one of the governing body of that church. By repeated acts he has, as a member of the quorum of the twelve apostles, given active aid and support to the hierarchy in its defiance of the statutes of this state and in its encouragement of polygamous practices by both precept and example."

Senator Burrows concluded as follows: "It is submitted that the senator, by becoming a member of and identifying himself with such organization and participating in its functions, has distinguished himself for membership in this body. An organization that fosters and encourages crime; tramples upon all law, human and divine; practices polygamy and polygamous cohabitation; degenerates the home; degrades womanhood; debauches public morals; strikes at the Christian civilization of this age; undermines and shakes the foundations of human society and government; destroys the sanctity of the marriage relation; defies the authority of the state and national government; registers an oath of hostility to the American nation, and brings the name and fame of the good people of Utah into disrepute and shame and humiliation to the American people—I submit that such an organization is not entitled to have its representative in the senate of the United States, and I therefore ask the adoption of the resolution."

SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE IN FRANCE

Law Of Associations In Effect Today---Pre-fects Ordered To Be Lenient In Enforcement.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Dec. 11.—The Law of Associations, providing for the separation of church and state in France, formally went into effect today. The climax of the long and bitter warfare between the Republic and the Catholic church has been reached. Contrary to what might be expected, indications are not lacking that the public disorders that have been provoked by the strife between state and church will now subside in a measurable degree. If such proves not to be the case the onus will be placed upon the church, as the government is unmistakably disposed to leniency in the enforcement of the law.

After a meeting of the cabinet ministers today it was announced that on Dec. 14 Premier Clemenceau will ask parliament to suppress the pensions of clergy and to liquidate the public property of Catholics and distribute the Presbyteries, seminaries, etc. It is also positively stated the government has decided to expel from France Mgr. Montagnini, secretary of the Papal Nunciature at Paris who has represented the Vatican here since the recall of the Papal Nuncio.

The attitude of the government is evidenced by the instruction issued by M. Brind, minister of education and public worship, to the prefects as to their conduct in enforcing the law. Assurance is given that the government will not go to extreme lengths by closing the churches to public worship. If congregations default in the formation of associations religious services will come under the law of 1881 as public meetings. But as services differ in many points from meetings the prefects have been instructed to adapt the law, where it is necessary, in order to facilitate in every way the carrying on of services, and notably the clause of the law by which previous notice of an intended meeting is exacted. It has been decided that one notice stating the hours of services shall suffice for any period.

The congregations must establish a bureau, or body of men, who will be responsible for the purpose and good order of meetings. Representatives of the government must be present at all meetings, but can only dissolve them if the bureau fails in its duties and disturbances ensue. Priests may receive and dispose of moneys taken in actual collections at such meetings, but all other contributions and incomes will belong to the state. Cures will be merely occupants without legal title in the premises. The churches and other properties will be handed over to associations. If they are tormented within a year. If taken then by the state they will still retain their previous character until a contrary decision is announced.

The going into effect of the Law of Associations marks an epoch in the history of the French Republic. It means, in effect, that no religion is now recognized by the state. Up to January 1 of this year the Roman Catholic church, the Reformed church, the Augsburg Confession, and the Jewish Religious Community were so recognized. The relations between the state and the Roman Catholic church were determined by the Concordat of 1801 and the Organic Articles of 1802. The relations between the state and the Protestants and Jews were determined by different laws and decrees of the same period. The ministers of "these creeds were paid by the state salaries and were in many respects dependent on the government. These relations are now completely severed.

According to the law promulgated just one year ago the churches are separated from the state, the adherents of all creeds may form associations for public worship, and the state, the departments and the communes are relieved from payment of salaries.

As transitory measures, ecclesiastics over 60 years of age and over 30 years of service, remunerated by the state are entitled to a pension equal to three-fourths their salary. Proportionate allowances are made for all other ecclesiastics. If the associations comply with the provisions of the law they are to be allowed the use of the churches, dwellings, seminaries and other property. No religious establishment is to be allowed to exist unless authorized by the state, and no monastic association can be authorized without a special law in each particular case.

The grants paid by the state in the last year of the old regime amounted to 37,328,061 francs, and those paid by departments and communes to 7,555,042 francs. The pensions and allowances to be paid according to the new law are estimated thus: first year, 29,563,871 francs; second year, 26,943,229 francs; third year, 21,528,061 francs; fourth year, 20,018,326 francs, etc.

Serve Notice
Late this afternoon formal notice was served on cardinal Richard, the archbishop of Paris, the bishops, and the parish priests of this and other departments that they must evacuate their residences tomorrow. In the hope of effecting a compromise, several deputies telegraphed to the mayors of the communes asking them to induce two Catholic laymen from each parish to make a declaration under the law of 1881, which the Pope has forbidden the parish priests to make.

Is Arrested
Manager Montagnini, secretary of the Papal Nunciature, was arrested this afternoon upon an order compelling him from France, and he will be conducted to the frontier tonight. The residence of Montagnini was searched by the police. By an order of the Minister of War 5,600 ecclesiastical students were required to present their certificates tomorrow. Those who fail to do so by Dec. 20 will be ordered to join the colors on January 7.

 parties had been found in due form and securities good. In both matters favorable action was taken. Mayor

Water-Damage Claim Disallowed
 Chairman Dulin of the judiciary committee introduced a resolution calling for the settlement with Attorney F. C. Burpee on a basis of $300 of the claims of John and William Brown against the city for alleged damage to tobacco, cabbage, and sugar beet crops by the overflow of their fields on Magnolia avenue during the big storm of August 8. When a vote was taken on the measure the claim was disallowed by a vote of 6 to 2.

Awful Agony of Piles

Positively Relieved by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

A Trial Package Mailed Free.
 There is no reason—surely no good reason—why any man or woman should continue to suffer with piles when a reputable company of druggists have placed in every high-grade pharmacy a positive and unfailing cure for this dread disease at a price within the reach of the poorest. They have done more. They offer to relieve the sufferer temporarily and start him well on the way to recovery, by giving to any piles patient who sends his name and address, a free trial package of the wonderful Pyramid Pile Cure in a plain sealed wrapper. There are enough of the curative

Where Most Piles Sufferers End, As Before Too Late.

elements in this trial package to greatly reduce the swelling of the affected part, to heal much of the sore-ness and ulceration. After the sample is gone your druggist will supply you with a box of the Pyramid for 50 cents.

Read Mrs. Bond's letter, which tells how she suffered and was relieved. It not positively cured after using one 50 cent box.

"I have tried your pile cure and find the mail you recommended them I am very thankful to you for ever putting them within my reach, for I have had one box and I have not used all of them yet, and I feel like a new woman today, and I tell everybody about them. When I started them I could not walk across the floor, but now I can do my work all right. My work was a burden to me before I started them, but I can tell you that I can work much better now. You can rely on me. I will tell everybody about Pyramid Pile Cure. Yours sincerely, Mrs. J. Bond, Toronto, Canada, 33
 Pears Ave."

"There is positively no risk or danger with the Pyramid Pile Cure, for there is nothing but curatives in the preparation. They are suppositories which placed in the affected part, act as a soothing ointment working upon the infected and ulcerous tissues giving them new life and stimulating a stronger circulation of the blood."
 By the use of the Pyramid Pile Cure the patient is cured at home without losing a day's work, no matter what his occupation. The cure may be accomplished in absolute privacy. We use no names for advertising purposes without the voluntary consent of the patient.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is quick, permanent and painless. Do not delay, but send your name and address today, and we will furnish you at once with the free trial package. Pyramid Drug Co., 73 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
 The 50 cent size packages are for sale at all druggists.

Aldermen Connell, Dulin, and Watt responding in the affirmative, and Aldermen Buchholz, Fish, Hager, Merritt, Rudolph, and Sheridan, in the negative. It is understood that the claimants hold the city liable for alleged insufficient and improper drainage accommodations in that locality and that they will bring suit in the courts to recover.

Report of City Marshal

City Marshal W. H. Appleby's report for the month of November was received and placed on file. It showed a total of 31 arrests in November, three for larceny from the person, three for petit larceny, two for violation of city ordinances, two for assault and battery, and 72 for drunkenness. Of the prisoners, 10 were taken to court and 11 discharged. Stolen property valued at $82 was recovered and returned to owners. Lodging was given to 24 men and 1 woman. Marshall's fees turned over to the city treasurer amounted to $38.95. Arrests were made by the officers as follows: Appleby, 6; Bencke, 7; Bear, 15;
 Brown, 9; Clampton, 7; Panning, 13;
 Mason, 12; Morrissey, 9; Dalton, 1; Street Commissioner James Semest's report set forth the fact that John Fanning had failed to comply with the notice calling on him to build a sidewalk in front of his North First street property and that the city had built the same at the cost of $28.50; also one in front of the J. H.
 Haviland estate on Court street at the cost of $41.21, under similar conditions. Chairman Sheridan of the highway committee moved that the report be adopted and that the city treasurer be instructed to post these items against the aforesaid owners in next year's tax roll. Motion was passed.

Other Reports Received

The report of the board of education submitted by Chairman Rudolph of the committee on schools and accepted, showed that expenditures in November had amounted to $7,444.45, of which amount $2,777.50 had been invested in coal and wood, $304 in furnaces, and $3,778.70 dispensed through the regular teachers' payroll. The November report of the municipal court set forth: fees during the month, $18.00; fines, $19; penalty, $20; city marshal's fees, $4.75.

Orders Passed

By an order introduced by Alderman Merritt and passed the city clerk was instructed to sign and deliver to B. P. Crossman the certificates issued for the improvement of Terrace street from the northerly side of West Bluff to the southerly side of Racine street, upon his paying to the city treasurer the difference in the amount of the certificates. The city clerk was instructed by another order to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $7.75 payable from the general fund to "The Municipality," for fifteen copies of the special convention number. The street commissioner was instructed by still another order to notify the Janesville Electric Co. that the gutters along the racway in Monterey must be cleaned.

Miscellaneous Matters

On motion of Ald. Watt the petition of S. B. Kenyon for the opening of Augusta street was laid on the table.
 Ald. Dulin called the attention of his colleagues and particularly Ald. Fish to the fact that a crosswalk or a safe substitute should be put in on Pine street before the city accumulated another damage suit. The particular locality is partly in the first and partly in the fifth ward and a discussion ensued as to which municipal division would have to bear the expense. Mayor Hutchinson finally put an end to the controversy, for the time being, by directing the street commissioner to have the crosswalk as no brick was available, to take steps of some sort to put the place in safe condition for the winter.

1906 FIRE LOSS NOT OVER $1,300

Chief Engineer H. C. Klein Submits Quarterly Report and Several Recommendations Are Adopted.

Fire Chief Henry C. Klein's quarterly report, setting forth the remarkably small tribute paid to the flames in Janesville during the year which is nearing its close, was presented to the common council last evening and in accordance with two of the recommendations contained therein, orders were passed directing him to have the wagons painted and varnished as in his judgment seems best at the best price obtainable and also directing the city treasurer to transfer from the general fund to the fire and water fund the sum of $55 in consideration for hose furnished the street department. The text of the report is as follows:

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville: Gentlemen—Pursuant to and in compliance with the charter provisions I herewith submit my quarterly report, as chief engineer of the fire department, and in doing so it affords me great pleasure to state that the fire loss, this year, is even smaller than it was one year ago, for the same period of time. The fire loss so far this year does not exceed one thousand three hundred (1,300) dollars.
 The loss last year for the first eleven calendar months was about one thousand four hundred ($1,400) dollars.
 The department, during the above period of time responded to sixty-seven (67) alarms of fire, of which thirty-nine (39) were telephone or "still" alarms.

The horses of the department at this time are in good health and condition. One horse was purchased since my last quarterly report. This horse is proving exceptionally good for the service. All of the five wagons are in good condition with the exception of the paint—some should be painted and others varnished. I have asked that the same be done in all my reports, during the past year, and as no order has been passed by the common council to this effect, I will respectfully renew this request.

Your attention has been called to the condition of the steam fire engine in a number of my reports, and as no action has been taken to remedy the same, I will again request the same be repaired or rebuilt.

Again I desire to call the attention of the common council to the hose tower attached to the rear of No. 2 fire station. This has not been used by the department in years, and the probability is that it never will be again. Furthermore, this tower is "buckling" the north and west walls badly, and I fear harmful results may follow. I therefore respectfully ask permission to remove this tower.

On May 14th, 1906, the common council ordered the chief engineer of the fire department to turn over to the street department three hundred feet of fire hose, the fire and water fund to receive one-third the cost of the same. This has been done, but not as yet has the fire and water fund been compensated to that extent. I will therefore request that this fund be reimbursed in the sum of $55.

Complying with the order of the common council passed September 3d, 1906, and later supplemented by the mayor, in relation to the removal of the railroad trucks in front of the west side fire station, I beg leave to report that the same has been executed, and I can assure you gentlemen of the council that this is a great improvement to this street, besides allowing the department to leave the station with greater speed, which is always desirable in fire departments.

Respectfully submitted,
 H. C. KLEIN,
 Chief Engineer.

TALKS OF PROSPECT IN THE ZINC FIELD

Edward Banfield Says That Lots of Money is Invested but Returns Are Small.

Edward Banfield is in the city today from Platteville and will return to that city tomorrow. Mr. Banfield and his father are operating a drilling outfit in the lead and zinc district and expect to keep at work late into the winter. In speaking of the mining prospects he says the percentage of strikes is very small. Much money has gone into prospecting with slight return. He speaks of syndicates from the northern copper region investing much money in the district and refers to one company who have already put $15,000 against prospecting without securing 20 cents in results.
 Mr. Banfield's father has purchased the Platteville Steam Laundry, and both men will move their families and household effects to Platteville, where they will make their home.

Before The Footlights.

One of the most interesting figures on the American stage is Lillian Spencer, one of our youngest stars, who is appearing this season in the title role of the charming comic opera success, "Dolly Varden," which is to come to the Myers Theatre, Friday, December 14. Miss Spencer was not born on the stage, but very near it, for she made her first appearance when only three years old, as "Baby Spencer" with the adorable "Trits" Emmett. When the comedian lifted the child tenderly from a dress-suit case, there was a chorus of "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the audience, and the unanimous exclamation was, "Just look at that smile," for the tiny face was wreathed in the most irresistible grin of impish delight. The happy, mischievous smile of the pretty baby debutant presaged the keen sense of humor and engaging loquacity that has made her a starring comedienne. Since her first appearance, Miss Spencer has played many parts with success, but none of them have fitted her sparkling personality so well as the role of the "ingenious Dolly" in the comic opera success, "Dolly Varden." Her opportunities for the brightest kind of comedy in this opera are unlimited. Milton and Sargent Aborn, who are the managers of her tour, have purchased the magnificent production of scenery and costumes, complete, which made "Dolly Varden" a brilliant success in New York and other big cities, and have surrounded her with a cast of artists of the highest standing, and a chorus that is said to be unsurpassed for feminine beauty, vocal strength, youth and grace. The presentation of Lillian Spencer and her big company in "Dolly Varden" promises to be an auspicious musical event here.

Saving Lights in Stornoway.
On a sunken reef 350 feet distant from Stornoway lighthouse, Scotland, is a remarkable beacon which warns mariners with the help of a light which is only apparent. The beacon is a cone of cast iron plates, surmounted with a lantern containing a glass prism. The prism derives its light from reflecting the rays emitted from the lighthouse, and the optical illusion is marvelous. Mariners naturally suppose that there is a lighted lamp on the beacon itself and many of them will not believe otherwise. But the object of the beacon is attained when the navigator sees the reflected light, which indicates the perilous rock below. This beacon in the north of Scotland has been in use more than half a century, and since it was fixed in position others have been placed in other neighborhoods to make clear points of danger. It is an ingenious and very effective safeguard against perils of the coast.

Fish in Inclosed Waters.
Many people, not without education and a general knowledge of natural history, are mystified by the presence of fish in inclosed waters. For many years there was open-mouthed wonder over the perch, bream and crayfish found in the newly cut dams near the Marguier river in New South Wales. In some cases the water had scarcely settled after the rain had filled the dam, but the fish were observed, and the Australian farmers started a theory of spontaneous production. This obtained, and gained wide credence, until a Sydney professor chanced to pick up a wild duck and found its breast feathers and webbed feet well dotted with fertile and almost hatched fishova, on which the "spontaneous production" theory was promptly withdrawn.

Waiting for Rabbit Eggs.
A benevolent old gentleman was visiting and the son of his host took a share in the entertaining by showing off some pigeons. The benevolent gentleman was pleased that the little fellow was so fond of pets, and promised to send him some rabbits. He kept his promise and soon after received a letter of thanks from the boy. It said: "Dear Mr. D.—I have got the rabbits, and I am much obliged for the rabbits. I will let you know they lay. Your loving friend S. H."

REPORTS ON INSURANCE

WISCONSIN COMMITTEE TELLS WHAT IT DISCOVERED.

Three Risk Companies Investigated Criticized for Certain Practices—Dishonesty Not Charged.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 11.—The report of the legislative committee appointed to investigate the affairs of life insurance companies doing business in Wisconsin was submitted to the governor Monday night. It embraces the testimony taken by the committee last summer, comments upon the evidence, and recommends the passage of a large number of bills amending the insurance laws of the state in the interest of policy holders.

The committee says the general examination was confined to three companies, the Wisconsin Life, of Madison; the Northwestern Mutual Life, of Milwaukee; and the Union Central Life, of Cincinnati. These companies were not selected because of any belief that their affairs were conducted in any less creditable manner than that of other companies transacting life insurance business in the state.

The evidence was to the effect that none of these companies made any contribution from the company's funds to any campaign committee, or has given aid in the election or defeat of any candidate for public office, nor was there any evidence that they have engaged directly or indirectly in any syndicate operations, or that any officer has any interest in such operations. There was no evidence of any misappropriation of the companies' funds or manipulation of the companies' business for personal gain, except by inference.

Fault is found with the practice of the Northwestern Mutual in permitting the officers, agents, their relatives and friends to make loans on the security of the companies' policies. The loans on tontine policies are criticized also, as well as rebating by agents and the paying out of money to "promote and defeat legislation."

Some features of the practices of the Union Central are criticized adversely, and in the investigation of the Wisconsin Life, the committee says, a striking condition of incompetency and mismanagement on the part of some of its principal officials was revealed.

The committee recommends the repeal of all retaliatory laws, and asserts that the premiums now charged are too large.

BRUTAL MURDER IN OKLAHOMA.

Wealthy Farmer Bound to Horse and Dragged to Death.

Parma, Okla., Dec. 11.—W. Scotty Smith, one of the most prominent and wealthiest farmers of Woods county, was called from his home Sunday night by a party of unknown men. He was seized and bound, with a rope drawn around his throat, and dragged by a horse across a freshly plowed ground until life was extinct. The mutilated body was left on the open prairie and was discovered Monday morning by the trail of blood on the earth. There is no clue to the identity of the assassins.

Wild Boar Charges Carlos.

Lishon, Dec. 11.—In the course of a wild boar hunt Monday a large and powerful boar charged King Carlos. His majesty was thrown, but not hurt; his horse, however, was killed. The boar then charged other members of the hunting party and inflicted wounds upon several.

Soap has been in use for 3,000 years and is twice mentioned in the Bible. A few years ago a soap boiler's shop was discovered in Pompeii, having been buried beneath the terrible rain of ashes that fell upon that city in the year 79 A. D. The soap found in the shop had not lost its efficacy, although it had been buried 1,800 years.

Dahlia Becoming Popular.

The dahlia, that fine and large flower which adorns our autumn gardens, is reconquering the place which has been usurped for some years by its Japanese sister, the chrysanthemum. The gardeners have given to it what it formerly lacked, variety, and its shades now rival those of the more popular flower.—Le Figaro.

Philadelphia Minister Attacks Wife And Gets Bullet in Brain.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11.—Miss Mary McAntee, Monday shot and probably fatally wounded her father, Rev. John Quincy McAntee, at their home here. The shooting, according to police officials, followed a quarrel between Mr. McAntee and his wife, in which the minister, it is asserted, was trying to throw Mrs. McAntee down the cellar stairs. The daughter, who was in the upper portion of the house, rushed downstairs with a small revolver in her hand and fired three shots at her father, two of which took effect in the head. One of the bullets penetrated the brain.

If you suffer from backache, There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys. A bad back means sick kidneys. Neglect it, urinary troubles follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

Are endorsed by Janesville people. Mrs. R. M. Wilson, of 202 Mineral Point Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "I have been suffering with my back for a number of years. I had constant pain in the loins and I felt so generally weak and run-down that I often felt that I could not keep up. I used liniments and other remedies that did not help me, and finally, seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our papers, I sent to the People's Drug Co., and got a box and began using them. A few doses were sufficient to rid me of the pain and I continued taking the remedy until entirely cured. My son found the same satisfaction in using them for bladder-trouble as he has been entirely free from it since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Wednesday, warm.

PROSPERITY AND MONEY

The nation is confronted with a problem so novel in character, that no solution has yet been discovered.

The era of prosperity is still at its zenith, crops are abundant, industries are crowded far beyond their capacity, substantial wealth is increasing at the rate of 5 billion dollars a year; yet money, the circulating medium, is so scarce in New York, the great money center, that bank reserves are far below the safety line, and interest rates are prohibitive.

The situation is all the more serious because the first of January is but three weeks away, and shortly after that date many millions of ready money will be required to meet the annual dividends of large corporations.

More than this, the railroads of the country will be in the market for large blocks of cash to invest in equipment and betterments.

Just where all this money is to come from is the problem which now confronts Wall street bankers and financiers, and it is a serious problem.

While money represents but a fragment of the wealth of the country, it is an important fragment, and there should be some way devised to increase the circulating medium to meet legitimate demands.

The farmer with his $10,000 farm and $5,000 worth of personal property, free from debt, is worth $15,000; yet he may not have $100 in the bank.

When he wants to add to his personal property he needs ready money, and with the wealth back of him finds no trouble in securing it unless there is a money stringency.

The railroads are in the same position.

They may have property worth

100 million dollars, and money enough in the treasury to meet running expenses, but when they decide to add to equipment or build extensions, they require ready money in liberal quantities, and are forced to find it in the money markets.

This is true of the industries and of commerce, and with a nation noted for wealth and prosperity, there ought to be some way devised to furnish the people with the necessary money to do business.

The congress now in session cannot render better service than by giving some attention to the banking laws of the nation. Secretary Shaw has suggested a plan for relief, which seems practical and the National Bankers' association recently outlined a plan which will bear investigation.

The government has in its treasury vaults at the present time nearly 900 million dollars in idle gold, more by 300 million dollars than any other nation in the world.

The bulk of this gold is held as collateral security for treasury notes in circulation.

Back of this circulation is also the wealth and honor of the American people, a double collateral which would be ample protection if every gold dollar was released and placed in circulation.

This would be called a radical measure and is not demanded, but

Secretary Shaw says that if the government ment at paltry wages. There is Dr.

Harrison G. Dyer the great "bugologist" who knows more about "mosquitoes than anyone else in the world, working for $25 a month. Gifford Pinchot, a millionaire, works for a slim

$4,500 a year as head of the U. S. forestry service. Many other prominent men of wealth are mentioned, who are employed in government work at ridiculously small wages. With some of them, public spirit furnishes the inspiration; in other instances the honor, the prestige, and the opportunity of "doing things," as Mr. Roosevelt says, afford a more powerful incentive than any desire for gain. But, whatever the motive, there seems to be a new kind of aspiration—an aspiration which produces results both substantial and valuable to the people and to the country at large.

It is well to remember that many men in public service today are philanthropists.

The President's cabinet is largely composed of men who are sacrificing time and talent, not for a meagre salary, but because of the spirit of patriotism which prompts them to serve. There is more consecrated wealth in the land than appears on the surface.

Ida M. Tarbell of Standard Oil fame is attempting to write a history of the tar. It is for the American Magazine.

Judging from the opening chapter, which appeared in the December number, the writer is badly tainted with democratic free trade notions, and her story is likely to be biased to great extent. The tariff is a larger topic than John D. Rockefeller.

Congress has decided that the President can't spell any old way he pleases, but government documents must adhere to Webster. This will be a relief to the country. Between Webster and Roosevelt any kind of spelling will pass muster, and the schools will have more time to devote to Greek and botany.

The insurance investigation committee has recommended 27 amendments to the life insurance laws, and the companies, as well as the legislature, will be kept busy all winter.

When life insurance strikes its proper level, the mutual feature will be abandoned, and the business placed on the stock basis, where it belongs.

The President's new cabinet is having hard sledding in the senate. Bonaparte and Cortez are the principal bones of contention; both are considered lightweights for the positions named.

It is to be regretted that Shaw could not have been kept at the head of the treasury department for another year at least.

Samuel Roemer, late president of the Southern railway, represented to the south what J. J. Hill of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, does to the north. He was the leading spirit in promoting Southern railway enterprises, and his place will be difficult to fill.

Too much prosperity, says Secretary

Shaw, is the cause of the present money stringency. The next panic, if it occurs within a twelvemonth, will be due to the same cause. The nation needs a year of hard times about once in every decade, to hold it level.

"Great Future" for Berlin.

The biggest city in the world 50 years to come will be Berlin. That is the calculation of Herr Olumke, a noted statistician. Its population will be near 14,000,000, and its only serious rival will be New York. In a pamphlet he has written to set forth this prophecy, Herr Olumke says the population of Berlin is increasing more rapidly than that of any other city except Budapest, Hungary.

To-day Great Berlin contains over 3,000,000 inhabitants. The rapid growth with Berlin's political and commercial importance will place the Prussian capital ahead of London,

Paris and New York. He calculates that London in 1953 will have 7,000,000 inhabitants.

Evidently the merchant of whom you bought those socks did not advertise if

Good Little Boy.

One afternoon while in Sunday school a little boy who had not been very attentive and had been interrupting the lesson, was asked by his teacher if he knew where bad little boys go.

The little fellow studied awhile, and then answered:

"Yes. It's place where there is fire, but I don't remember the name of the town."

What He Would Do.

"I wish I had money enough to buy an automobile."

"What kind of one would you get?"

"I'd get a spanking team of horses."

Aeronauts Marvel at Brazilian's Successful Flight.

THE BEGINNING OF A NEW ERA

Prediction That Achievements in Near Future Will Surpass the One Made in Paris With "Heavier-Than-Air" Flying Machine—First Important Demonstration of the Kind Made in Public—Cost Not Large.

M. Santos-Dumont's accomplishment in flying 635 feet in a "heavier-than-air" machine in Paris the other day was the chief topic of discussion at a meeting of aeronauts and men interested in aeronautics recently held at the Hotel Astor in New York.

"It marks the most positive advance yet made in the science of aeronautics," said Mr. Augustus Post. "There have been many reports of the successful performance of similar feats, but M. Santos-Dumont has publicly demonstrated the entire practicability of the heavier-than-air principle. One of the features that should not be lost sight of is the fact that such a machine as his can be made for not to exceed $3,000, while $100,000 would not buy a Lebaudy airship of the gas bag design. As soon as the public becomes accustomed to the operation of these airships they will be as numerous and more popular than automobiles."

More than anything else the achievement of Santos-Dumont will compel other inventors to come into the open and make public what they have accomplished," said Mr. J. C. McCoy, who made many ascents in Paris last summer in company with Lieutenant Lahm and as his own pilot. "It marks the beginning of a new era in aeronautics," he added.

Stimulated by the feat of Santos-Dumont, Dr. Julian P. Thomas has renewed his experiments with aeroplanes, which he abandoned last summer for ballooning. Dr. Thomas was associated with Mr. Israel Ludlow in the experiments which resulted in the almost fatal accident to the latter in Florida last spring when his airship collapsed.

"Without in any way discounting the achievement of M. Santos-Dumont," said Dr. Thomas, "I believe I have discovered a more correct principle of maintaining equilibrium than his appears to be. I know from my experience in ballooning that one is more than anything else anxious to know how he is going to lead. When that problem is solved the rest is easy. I have already set to work carrying out my own ideas. Like all other inventors, I expect of course to succeed, but at least I have enough confidence in my plan to risk my own neck in trying it out. I shall have the aeroplane finished within a few months, and by next spring at the latest I shall probably either have succeeded in proving my theory or disproving it to my own cost."

A. M. Herring, who has been experimenting for a dozen years with gliding machines and aeroplanes, said that M. Santos-Dumont's feat was chiefly of importance as having been the first public demonstration of the practicability of flying with a machine without the aid of a gas bag.

"It is further from my thoughts to appear to disparage M. Santos-Dumont's performance," he said, "and he deserves extreme credit for what he accomplished, but the fact remains that the Wright brothers in this country have far exceeded his feat, although not in public tests. I do not blame the public for being suspicious of claims which are made without proof, however, and the fact that thousands of persons saw with their own eyes the flight of M. Santos-Dumont entitles him to all the praise which has been accorded to him."

"With the experience of additional flights he ought to gain confidence and a greater facility in guiding his airship. He is proceeding on the same general principles as almost all aeroplane inventors nowadays, and his ship is probably the type of what will finally become the standard airship when the automobile and even steam and electric lines are displaced for all except freight hauling and short distance runs."

"M. Santos-Dumont regulated himself in light air all right, but the machine of the future must be largely automatic in adjusting itself to the air currents; if it is to be at all safe. By many accidents it has been determined that the mind of man is not quick enough to act in these sudden emergencies."

M. Santos-Dumont's aeroplane feat brings the problem of aerial navigation no nearer to solution than it was a year or two ago, according to the opinion of Orville and Wilbur Wright of Dayton, O., inventors of probably the first successful flying machine.

"The latest flight made by M. Santos-Dumont does not appeal to us with the same degree of importance that it does to the people on the other side of the water, where the aeroplane is comparatively new in the problem of aerial navigation," said the Messrs. Wright. "In fact, the flight does not equal one which we made nearly two years ago at Kittyhawk, N. C., with our machine and which we have bettered several times since. At that time, with a twelve horsepower gasoline engine, we covered twenty-four miles in fifty-nine seconds in the face of a wind above the normal velocity. Our motive power, furnished by a gasoline engine, was only one-fourth that used by M. Santos-Dumont, while our ballast exceeded that carried by the Brazilian several hundred pounds."

ANCIENT MYTH IS EXPLODED.

Scientific Proof That Animals Do Not Commit Suicide.

The supposed suicide of animals raises a subtle problem, and to deny it is to fly in the face of deep-rooted popular belief. It is just as much a natural history myth, however, as the hoard-headed belief in the adder swallowing its young in time of peril, the toad living in a stone nodule for thousands of years, or the germinating powers of mummy wheat. The most ancient fable of the verities of the myth mongers relates to the habit of scorpions digging their stings into their heads when unable to escape.

Experiments have proved the fallacy of the scorpion's suicide, notably those carried out some years ago by Dr. E. Ray Lankester, director of the natural history department of the British Museum, and Prof. Bourne of Madras. Scorpions were confined in an extremely hot place from which escape was impossible, and their frantic gymnastics were carefully studied with serene and philosophic complacency. As in the case of the tortured rattlesnake biting his own body, the action of the sc

Now dead, was for many years the dentist who had the run of business of making artificial teeth in this city. He was able to get and hold this department of the practice because he had the native ability together with experience which must be possessed by a man who hopes to ever be a success in making teeth.

Very few men are really cut out by nature to be dentists. Hundreds of dentists go out of practice every year simply because they have not the natural adaptation by nature to ever be successful dentists. At the present time the bulk of the plate work in Janesville is being done by Dr. Richards.

He had good success at it from the day he began to practice and now after 17 years of daily experience, he simply delivers the goods. A man recently said to Dr. Richards, "I have had 24 sets of teeth made for me before I got the present plates in my mouth."

SATAN IN TOILS IN JANESVILLE?

CITY MARSHAL BELIEVES HE HAS DESPERATE NEGRO.

WHO'S WANTED IN ST. LOUIS

Suspect Was Arrested with White Companion Last Night on Charge of Stealing Roast Beef from Grand Hotel.

At St. Louis on the 30th of December, 1905, a negro named John Durley, alias "Satan," is alleged to have shot and killed another colored man named John Ogden. This is the prologue of a story which may be an independent story. At any rate shortly after six o'clock last evening a negro of rather unimpressive appearance and a white companion applied for a hand-out at the rear door of the Grand hotel in this city, and shortly after the same had been refused them, three roasts of beef which were cooling in a pan in open window near the entrance disappeared. Later on Officer Brown, after scouring the North-Western yards, visited the St. Paul premises and arrested in the sand-house a colored and a white man answering to the descriptions given of the pair who had asked for food at the hotel. At the police station the negro gave his name as George Walker, declared that he had made his home in Beloit for two years past, and that his sister conducted a boarding-house in that city. The white man gave his name as Glen Schneider, said that he was from nowhere in particular and that he first fell in with his African companion at Janesville. Both denied the theft.

Answers the Description
The two chains of events narrated in the foregoing may have no connection whatever, but City Marshal Appleby will be greatly surprised if the man Walker does not prove to be the self-same "Satan" who is so badly wanted for murder in St. Louis. For in the rogues' gallery album which he keeps is entered under date of Feb. 6 the notice issued by Acting Chief of Police C. G. Gillaspay of the Missouri metropolis, giving a minute description and an excellent likeness of the fugitive, and this description and picture fit the prisoner almost to a dot. His line are given as follows: height, 5 ft. 4 in.; weight, 150 pounds; age, about 20 years; skin, dark brown; peculiar scar over left eye and another one on cheek. The picture shows him wearing the apron of a cook or waiter.

Put in the Sweat Box
When Walker was put in the sweat box this morning he admitted that his home was not in Beloit, the city marshal having previously ascertained from Chief Scheibel that no such man had been a resident there. He said that he had been in St. Louis about eleven months ago, that he cooked there for a railroad gang and that he was 22 years old. His slouch hat was at the time pulled down over his forehead. "Where'd you get that scar on your left cheek?" asked the city marshal, indicating an ugly cut about an inch and a half long. "Got it jumping off a freight train when I was four years old," replied the negro. "What about that one over your left eye?" "I pulled up your hat there!" said the marshal. The colored man reluctantly raised the hat disclosing a peculiar abrasion similar to the one shown in the picture and sullenly replied: "Hit with an axe handle." Further investigations showed that he weighed 155 pounds and measures 5 feet 4 inches. When he was asked if he ever went under the name of Durley he appeared to be confused, but entered a denial.

Message Sent to St. Louis
City Marshal Appleby wired the police at St. Louis this noon. The colored man will probably be taken into court some time today and the case against him for larceny continued until a definite answer is received from Missouri.

O. Mount of the firm of Paul, Jeffris & Mount responded to inquiries with the statement that the stock had not all been subscribed and that there was nothing for publication at this time. It is reported that several local men largely interested in the Galena mining district are to combine their holdings in the new company.

Authorized by Shakespeare.
Shakespeare has "sixt" for "sixth." Doubtless he so pronounced it, for he was credited with having written the three parts of "Henry the Sixth," and he certainly wrote "The Life of Henry the Fifth," as the old edition has it. And it is worthy of notice that "fifta" and "sixta" are the Anglo-Saxon forms.—Prof. Skeat, in National Review.

Wily Ruse of Lion.
When hyenas plague lions by stealing pieces of the prey, the lion will throw chunks of meat toward them at shorter and shorter distances, until they get within reach of its paws and are finished by a blow.

Quality That Brings Success.

Melbourne's Quiet Sunday.
Melbourne has successfully resurrected the "Lord's day act of George III." That city is a sabbatarian stronghold. No Sunday newspaper is allowed to appear, and every hotel is closed by law, although a good deal of illicit drinking is done.

LOOKS LIKE A ROSE THORN.

South American Insect Thus Protected by Nature from Its Enemies.

Protective resemblance, protective coloration, or whatever name may be given to the deception which is practiced by one branch of zoology upon another is to the naturalist at all times a most fascinating study. The green caterpillar in the country hedges, the moth reposing on the tree trunk, the flat fish on the sandy bottom and the stick insect on the barren twig provide in a lesser or greater degree remarkable illustrations by one of the wisest of Dame Nature's provisions against the risk of extermination.

In some cases the protective resemblance serves a double purpose. It is protective in that it affords concealment from the enemy and aggressive because per contra the victim can approach without fear.

One of the most remarkable, perhaps, is the little South American insect which bears so striking a resemblance to the ordinary rose thorn as to often deceive the most practiced eye. How it discovered in the first instance its similarity to a prickly thorn, or how, having made the discovery, it decided to use it as a means of protection against its natural enemies is one of nature's profoundest riddles.

SEVERE ON FOOD ADULTERATOR.

German Judge Imposed Extreme Penalty of the Law.

"It is wicked to adulterate a man's food than to pick his pocket. Who steals my purse steals trash, but he who robs from me my good health—well, he's a possible murderer."

The speaker, pushing away with horror, a dish of preserved strawberries, went on.

"The Germans actually do regard it as wicked to adulterate a man's food than to steal from him, and they punish the food adulterator twice as severely as the pickpocket."

"In a German court I once saw a shabby pickpocket—he had stolen two dollars—sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Directly afterwards a millionaire cannier was convicted of adulterating canned beans with a chemical that was likely to give you erysipelas or quinsy. With us the cannier would have gotten off with a fine, but the German judge indignantly sentenced him to two years."

"And I regret," the German judge added, "that the law does not allow me to make your sentence harder, sir."

The Little Candle.
The candle still holds its own, notwithstanding petroleum, gas and electricity. The production of candles in the United States during the fiscal year of 1906 amounted to $3,839,382.

British Con. Not Régiments.

At the beginning of the eighteenth century the British army had a bad reputation at home and it was very difficult to get recruits for it. For this reason it was officially proposed to find the men by an impressionist falling on "any sturdy beggar, fortune teller or the like idle, unknown, suspected fellow in the parish; or if there be none such, then anyone that has already been in a gaol or before a justice of the peace for his idle, disorderly life." The advice was acted upon. Debtors were released from prison on promising to join the army or the navy, criminals were pardoned on the same terms, and persons with no visible means of subsistence were marched off to death and glory. The system worked out better than might have been expected. In the peninsula war, for instance, three new régiments were composed entirely of convicts, and one made for itself an illustrious name.

Peculiarity of the Hippopotamus.

At times the hippopotamus exudes what has been described as a "bloody sweat." Microscopically examined, the exudation is found to consist of a great number of minute colorless bodies, resembling the colorless corpuscles of the blood, and a smaller number of pink-colored bodies, made up of some crystalline substance forming clusters of rodlike and tri-radiate form. These, becoming dissolved, give the surrounding fluid medium a deeper pink color than that observable before dissolution took place. Both the colored and colorless matter appear to be exuded by special pores in the skin which display activity only immediately after the creature has left the water.

Skill of Indian Medicine Men.

Charles Gibson, of Eufaula, a Creek citizen, who has intimate knowledge of tribal customs, asserts that the Creek Indian medicine man with his remedies can stop instantly the flow of blood from a wound and that no physician can excel him in curing a gunshot wound. Gibson says that these medicine men never fail to cure a snake bite, the bite of a mad dog and the sting of a centipede or a tarantula.

Had Eleven Wives.

In Europe the title of the champion husband has been claimed by Fritz Kottman, of Gredlingen, in Wurtemberg, who had 11 wives. The first three died young, the fourth and fifth were drowned, the sixth committed suicide, the seventh, eighth and ninth died natural deaths, the tenth was killed by a bull, and the eleventh had a leg cut off by a railway train and so compelled the postponement of the wedding.

In Unequal Contest.

A susceptible and delicate mind broken in the frightful struggle of passion against opinion.—Madam Ancelet.

NEW PERIL FOR MANKIND.

Adornments of Femininity the Cause of Much Trouble.

With a smothered ejaculation the man clasped his hand to his eye and the pretty girl sitting next to him blushed furiously. Then she left the car two blocks before she had reached her destination. When she had alighted the man freed his mind.

"That's the second time to-day I've nearly lost my eyesight by one of those infernal quills," he muttered. "And this sort of thing has been going on ever since the spring millinery came in. I've had my nose tickled, my hat knocked off and my chin scraped until I'm sick of it. Every hat bears one of these bristling weapons, and all set at such an angle that they are bound to make trouble to some one. They are not sewed down in a decent manner, but are thrust in so the feather end sticks 'way out one way and the pointed quill the other. They look as if some one had thrown them at the hat and they had stuck there. I imagine the style was invented to prevent a woman from being crowded in the cars, for they serve to keep every one at a distance."

Just then the man dodged, but not quickly enough to prevent a long scratch across his cheek as the woman the other side of him suddenly turned to look out of the window.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

SOAP WAS A MEDICINE.

Past Generation Had Great Belief in Its Efficacy.

"When I was a boy," said the old man, "they often made me take a little soap as a medicine. It did me good."

"Soap was prescribed in the village for cramp, for sick headache, for a half dozen complaints. The people admitted that it was a nauseous dose, but on the other hand they pointed to its efficacy."

"When I was taken down my mother would cut from the cake of yellow soap in the kitchen a chunk about as big as a chestnut."

"Now, sonny," she would say, "swallow this, and she'd hold the yellow morsel in thumb and forefinger close to my lips."

"I'd begin to whimper. The smell of it and the idea of the lather that would form in my mouth—the lather I'd have to swallow—would fill me with despair. But my mother was inexorable. With stiff lips I'd take the soap into my mouth. I'd chew the soft and slippery stuff a little, and then, with a groan and a dreadful gulp, I'd swallow it. Horrors!"

"Horrors!" said the old man, smiling. "I can still taste those doses of soap that were so common in the village in my boyhood."

Man 'Sells' His Skin.

Antonio Gilberti, a coachman, patient at the Brescia hospital, Milan, Italy, so badly burned himself that the skin began to peel off from all parts of his body. The physicians had despaired of saving his life, when another patient, named Franceschini, a stout man, having more skin than he required for his personal use, offered to sell the coachman some. A bargain was struck for 500 lire, which Gilberti has promised to pay on the installment plan as soon as he is well enough to work. In the meantime Franceschini is being literally flayed alive, and the removed portions of the epidermis are being transferred to Gilberti's body. The physicians are quite as much occupied in preventing the men from quarreling as they are with the operation.

Couldn't Stand the Racket.

"There's a country buyer out there," said the senior member of the firm, "that I want you to take care of."

"Not me, please," protested the salesman. "I promised my wife I'd stop drinking."—Philadelphia Press.
